FOREWORD

1 A Useful Reference Book

Shri P S G Kumar, Lecturer in the University Department of Library Science, has compiled a useful reference book entitled Indian Librarianship in Perspective. It is learnt that it is first of its kind so far as Indian librarianship is concerned.

2 Indian Librarianship in all its Dimensions

A perusal of the reference book gives an idea about the comprehensive study of the Indian librarianship in all its dimensions. It covers a considerably long period range, from 3,000 B.C. to the end of 1975. Thus, the part or view of subjects, it gives a cognizance of almost all the important areas covering a variety of subjects such as libraries, librarianship, library personnel, library science, education for librarians, library literature on one side, and on the other, subjects like books, book trade, exhibitions, education which are allied to librarianship. It gives an interesting reading with regard to introduction of script, evolution of languages, history of printing and calligraphy.

3 Relative Index

The arrangement of the text is chronological. A first look makes one feel to have been lost in the multitude of subjects covered. However a relative index with about 10,000 entries comes forth for help in locating all references on a subject. The sectional headings with different type sets gives a clear presentation of the subject. One who desires to know the important events occurred in any particular year during such a wide span can consult the text directly.

4 A Commendable Work

This is an outcome of an exhaustive survey of library literature, consolidation and compilation. It is a pleasure that a lecturer in our University Department of Library Science has done a commendable work in a short period.

PROLOGUE

1 Genesis of this Work

11 A REGULAR PRATICE

When I was a student of M Lib Sc, I started maintaining a record of important events in the history of librarianship. In those days, it was only a part of my preparation for the examination. But later on this became a regular exercise with me. I used to note down, whenever I come across, any new event in the library literature.

12 THOUGHT OF COMPILATION

It was in January 1973, when I was going through the MALA Silver Jubilee volume Library Science in India; edited by Mr Chandrasekharan and noting down certain new events as usual, it struck that it will be better to make a serious effort to compile and publish a comprehensive index of all important events in Indian librarianship, which can better serve the needs of my colleagues.

13 ENCOURAGEMENT FROM PROF KAULA

When I met Prof Kaula the next day, I whispered about my wish to compile 'Indian Library Chronology'. He immediately with a mixed feeling of surprise and satisfaction said 'It is a good idea...go ahead . . . so this will be your first contribution!' This gave me enough confidence to move further in this direction.

14 AFTER THOUGHT OF ANNOTATIONS

In the beginning it was my intention, only to prepare a simple index of events. Later, I decided to add a short note or an annotation which can increase its value.

2 Progress

21 WORK AT BHU

I was at BHU till June 1973. During this period I could collect about 700 events.

22 AT NAGPUR

After joining Nagpur University, when I was making a survey of the library literature in the University Library, to my surprise and so to say to my fortune I could find complete sets of all important periodicals on library science right from Modern Librarian. This gave me an impetus for further work.

3 Earlier Efforts

During the course of literature survey, I learnt that Mr Sant Ram Bhatia and others have contemplated to compile a library chronology as early as in 1943 and publish it in 'Library in India

Series' (See 1943[30]). Reasons are not known why this could not be materialized.

31 THIS FULFILS THEIR WISH

I am glad that this work is fulfilling the long cherished desire of the profession. I cannot say how far I could succeed in this effort. The right person to judge is Mr Sant Ram Bhatia himself. So I decided to have an epilogue from him to this work.

4 Scope of the Book

Basically this is a reference work which will serve a variety of purposes :

- 1 A comprehensive history of Indian librarianship and scholarship ;
- 2 A directory of libraries ;
- 3 A biographical dictionary ;
- 4 A bibliography of books and other library literature ;
- 5 The relative aspects of subject if brought together with the help of the index, it will be a monograph on that subject ; and
- 6 All the events of a year will form a concise year book.

5 Conspectus

51 COMPREHENSION

There are about 3,500 entries covering a variety of subjects like :

| | |
|-----------------------------|------------------------|
| Libraries | Personalia |
| Newly founded | Appointments |
| Reorganisations | Awards |
| New additions | Felicitations |
| Gifts and grants | Tours and visits |
| Celebrations | Lectures |
| Exhibitions and | Obituaries |
| Extension activities | From abroad |
| Legislation | Endowments |
| Efforts | Activities |
| Bills and Acts | Literature |
| Amendments | Books |
| Science | Journals |
| New theories | Catalogues |
| Education for librarianship | Bibliographical and |
| New schools | Documentation services |
| Degrees and courses | Books |
| Awards, etc, | Book Trade |
| Seminars, etc, | Exhibitions |
| | Miscellaneous |

52 ARRANGEMENT

Under each head the entries have been arranged on one or more of the following principles :

- 1 Alphabetical arrangement [eg : Libraries, Personalia, Literature, etc] ;
- 2 Decreasing extension [eg : Associations] ; and
- 3 Favoured category [sub-heads under each major head].

53 ENTRIES

531 Details

The entries were sized to the general information requirements. I regret very much for the events that could not find a place in this volume. The only reason for it is the non-availability.

532 Feature Headings

Feature Headings have been provided for easy location and assimilation.

The numbers have been indicated in figures but not in words (eg: 9-- ILA Conference But not as Ninth ILA Conference).

533 Doubtful Events

In case of doubt, the other date in vogue is indicated within square brackets with a question mark (eg: 1898 Shri Dahilaxmi Library, Nadiad [1892 ?]).

54 INDEX

It is a relative index with more than 10,000 entries. The index number consists of the year number and the serial number of the entry in that year given in square brackets (eg: 1943 [30]).

541 INDEX ALSO SERVES AS AN ERRATA

No Errata is appended to this work. However many of the mistakes in the text have been correctly presented in the index. Hence index also compensates the need of an Errata.

55 TOP AND BOTTOM LINES OF THE PAGE IN THE TEXT

56 ABBREVIATIONS AND ACRONYMS

The abbreviations used are very few. In case of acronyms the expansions have been given within parenthesis in the entry it self. eg: IASLIC (=Indian Association of Special Libraries and information Centres). However a list of abbreviations and acronyms used in the text as well as index is given at the beginning.

6 Acknowledgments61 TO THE AUTHORS OF THE SOURCE MATERIAL

I record my sincere thanks to all the authors and editors whose works formed a source material for this work ; specially to Messrs S R Bhatia, K Chandrasekharan, Bimal Kumar Dutta, Padmashri Iyyanki Venkataramanaiah, P N Kaula, Krishan Kumar, K Lakshminarayana, S K Mookherjee, A K Mukherjee, P Nagabhushanam, V K Narasimhan, A K Ohdedar, Late R S Parkhi, R G Prasher, Priolkar, Late Dr S R Ranganathan, S N Sadhu, B N Saraf, Dr J S Sharma, V Venkatappaiah ; and the office bearers of A P Library Association, Delhi Library Association, Director of Public Libraries : Tamil Nadu, Iaslic, Indian Library Association, Inter University Board, Kerala Granthasala Sangham, and Punjab Library Association.

62 TO THOSE RESPONDED TO MY LETTER

On 3 August 1973 I sent letters to a number of individuals and institutions requesting them to supply the necessary material for this work. For about 20 letters I received I only had a dozen replies from Messrs S R Bhatia (Head Librarian), B K Gosh (Secretary), D K Library Associates, Dr R L Mitter (Secretary), K J Gopal Rao (Santham), V Thiruvalluvar (Director of Public Libraries), D N Nair (and) O P Tanna (Secretary, Indian Library Association). My thanks to them.

63 FOR THE FOREWORD AND EPILOGUE

I am thankful to our beloved Vice-Chancellor Dr D Y Chakravarti for his encouragement as well as for his kind Foreword and revised Sanskrit Ramayana for his Epiogue.

64 FOR THEIR ENCOURAGEMENT AND SUPPORT

It is my pleasant duty to extend my thanks to Mr V V Kulkarni Head of the Department of Library Science, Nagpur University, Nagpur for his continuous encouragement and support, to my friends Messrs C D Sharma, V Venkateshwar and to my colleagues Mrs Vandya, Mr S B Agrawal, Mr M Y Qureshi, Mr Lal and Mrs Khat, and other library staff of Nagpur University Library for their help.

65 FOR THOSE HELPED IN THE PREPARATION

I am grateful to Dr P S Saxty, Professor and Head of the Department of English Nagpur University, Nagpur for being kind enough to go through the manuscript and extend his suggestions, to my friend Mr F S Giri Prakash for the help he has rendered in editing, and to my sister Miss P Vajaya Sree and my wife Udaya Sree for their help in typing and checking up of the entries. My thanks are also to my friends like Mr W H Markar, Mr G N Kharche and Mr Murmare for their help in the preparation of the manuscript.

7 Dedication

This work had been dedicated to my beloved Professor P N Kaula as a mark of respect and gratitude on his 51-Birthday.

8 Publication

Finally, I wish to acknowledge my debt, which is obvious to Mr B V Gupta, Managing Director, Messrs Metropolitan Book Company for his immediate acceptance to foot the publication on my submission and also for the quick and neat execution, and to Messrs Rashtravari Printers, Maya Puri, New Delhi for excellent Printing and complete cooperation.

9 An Appeal

I am hopeful that the readers will bear the mistakes, point out the lacunae; extend their suggestions for the improvement; and supply the information from time to time for a better subsequent edition.

Nagpur,
22 March, 1977.

PSG KUMAR

The Bright-Kaloupek papers forwarded by Dr. W. C. Cline in 1947 proves that Armenians were in Iran in the 14 century BC and the know some type of script; otherwise they could not have made these inscriptions.

2 m BC[1]

The inscriptions also give a clue that the oldest phase of Sanskrit literature is older than the 2 Millennium BC. [1]

1 Millennium BC

WRITING

VEDAS

For the first time Vedas were committed to writing by Vasukra, a famous Kashmiri Brahmin. [1]

850 BC

WRITING

Script

BRAHMI

Brahmi script has been traced back to the Phoenician type of writing represented by the inscription in which Mesha, king of Moab recorded his successful revolt against the kingdom of Israel. It was probably brought into India through Mesopotamia as a result of the early commerce by sea between Babylon and a part of Western India. It is believed to be the parent of all the modern Indian alphabets. [1]

800 BC

WRITING

Script

SANSKRIT

Sanskrit spread over North India.

[1]

700 BC

WRITING

Script

BRAHMI

Few believe that Brahmi Script came into vogue during this period. [1]

EDUCATION

EARLY UNIVERSITIES

In the universities at Kuru, Panchala, Videha, Matsya, Usinara, Taxila, Naimisaranya and Kasi, the educational process was known to be by Sruti-Smrithi. No reference was made to the imparting of alphabets at these universities. [2]

6 Century BC

WRITING

Script

KHAROSHTI

Kharoshti is derived from the Aramaic script and was introduced into India.

At that time the North-West was under Persian rule and Aramaic was used as a common means of communication for the purpose of government throughout the Persian empire.

The script has been found in stone inscriptions, coins, and metal plates. These are irregular, elongated and cursive. The writing is from right to left. [1]

5 Century BC

WRITING

It was mentioned in Vashistha Dharma Sutra (xvi-10, 14, 15) that written documents are a reliable proof. [1]

Script

LETTERING-A GAME

Viniva pitika and Nikyas mention a list of games of which one is called Aksharika (lettering). It is the guessing at letters traced in the air in a play-fellow's back. [2]

Writing material

ROCKS

The art of communication on stone was in practice. [3]

BOOKS

MAHABHARATA

In Mahabharata (Santi parva 305) Vashistha said to Maharaja Janaka that those who are able to study the books (Granthas) and cannot understand the significance and inner meanings of them, study uselessly. [4]

477 BC

Fixing on memory

It is side in the year of Gautamas' death near about five hundred of his disciples and followers assembled at Rajagriha, the then capital of Magatha and chanted together the teachings of Gautama to fix them on memory. [1]

Writing materialEARLY ROCK INSCRIPTION

The heirs of Gautama constructed a Stupa at Piprava near Nepal on the ashes of Gautama on which they have inscribed with smoke :

“This shrine for the relics of the Budha the August one is the pious foundation of the Sakyas, his brethern in association with their sisters, their children and their wives”. This proves writing was in vogue during this period. [2]

4 Century BCWRITING*Scribes*LIPIKARA

The great grammarian Panini in the eighth chapter of his work referred to Lipikara the term that was used for scribes in those days. [1]

Writing MaterialCLOTH AND BARK

Brich bark, cloth or tender inner bark of trees were believed to be used for writing. [2]

BOOKSKIND OF AUTHORS

Production of literary works in the form of manuscripts was in vogue. Panini mentions Granthas and the different kinds of authors as Mantrakara, Padakara, Gathakara, Slokakara and Sabdakara. [3]

MAKING

He mentioned the principles for making books as Krita Grantha and Adhikritya krite Grantha and planning of treatises as Tantra-Yukti. [4]

327 BCWRITING*Writing Material*PAPER

It was said that Indians had the knowledge of using and manufacturing paper out of cotton as is evidenced from the writtings of the Greek writer Nearchos who visited India in this period. [1]

STONE

It was said that Alexander the great has erected twelve altars of square stone in Indian scripts as a monument to his expedition. [2]

320 BC

Jain Canons

The first Jain Council held at Patliputra is said to have framed the Jain Canons. [1]

302 BC

Mile Stones

Megasthenes speaks of the use of Mile Stones to indicate distances and halting places on the highways. [1]

3 Century BC

WRITINGScripts*SIXTY FOUR KINDS

Lalitha Vistara (Chap V, p. 181) written during the period of Asoka says 'Bodhisatv taking a tablet made of Uragasara sandal wood and excellent ink with a golden pen mounted with jewels, thus addressed the tutor Viswamitra "which is the writing, Sir, which you wish to teach me? Is it the Brahmi, Kharosthi writing.....64 Kinds" Thus it says that Buddha has enumerated 64 scripts. Though the question of whether Buddha was able to reveal 64 scripts at an age of going to schools, is there we are able to know about the existence of 64 scripts at that time. [1]

Writing MaterialROCK EDICTS

Most of the writings in this period were committed on rocks. The great Indian Emperor Ashoka issued innumerable edicts all over India clearly stated the purpose of engraving them on stone. [2]

PALM LEAVES

Record of early use of palm leaves as writing material in South India can be ascribed to this period. [3]

3 & 2 Century BC

WRITINGWriting Material*BONY STYLUS

Stylus of bone were found to be used in the early second and third century BC. [1]

3 & 2 c BC [2]

Script

TAMIL

Tamil script might have come on to inscription some where in third to second century BC by foreign emigrants who were inveterate makers of stone inscriptions. [2]

GOLD

Earliest record of use of gold as writing material can be dated back to this period.

From a Stupa near Taxila, a piece of writing on gold in Kharosthi was found. [1]

83 BC

WRITING

WRITING IN PALI LANGUAGE

Hinayana Tripitaka was committed to writing in Pali language. [1]

1 Century AD

WRITING

Script

KHAROSTHI

Kharosthi lipi was found on the Bhurja bark of the Dhammapada from Khotan. [1]

PRAKRIT

The seventeenth Brahmi in Satavahana King Hala has written Gadha Parva Sati in Prakrit with seven complete and in seven hundred stanzas. This shows that the Andhra Kings have patronised Prakrit at the beginning of the present era.

WRITINGWriting Material*SURFACES

Hindus used to write on birch bark, Palra and Bhurja patra in the North-West region.

Wood as a writing material was referred to in Buddhist writings. [3]

PENS

Two copper pens with point divided by a cut as in the modern nib have been also recovered from Taxila. [4]

2 Century ADLANGUAGE AND LITERATURE*TELUGU

Prakrit and Sanskrit inscriptions belonging to the second century show certain Telugu words proving thereby that Telugu has been the language of the inhabitants of the land. [1]

TAMIL

The starting of the Sangam literature of Tamil may be dated to 2 century AD. But this is a controversial and unsettled matter. [2]

WRITINGWriting Material*COPPER PLATES

Indians were known to write on copper plates. It is learnt that most of the sacred writings during the period of Kanishka were on copper plates. [3]

BOOKSRECORDING

The Satraps of the upper Deccan and of Western India maintained the traditions of registering all their documents, and copies of these documents were preserved in the State record office known as Phalka-Vara. [4]

EDUCATIONNAGARJUNA

Nagarjuna, a famous Buddhist monk, lived on a hill by the side of river Krishna in Palnadu area of the present Andhra Pradesh. He went to Naga Dwipa and brought Prajna parmita Sutra. He also learnt the Vaipulya and other Sutras there. He is the founder of Mahayana School of Buddhist philosophy and a famous scholar scientist of those days. He conducted many experiments. It is also known that he founded a parvata Vihara and a university therein. The main building of the university is said to be a five storied one and a library was placed at the top floor. [5]

2-3 Century AD

WRITING

CLAY TABLETS

Bricks of $11\frac{1}{2}'' \times 9\frac{1}{2}''$ were found to be used for writing in North India. One such inscription was found at Gopalpur village of the Gorakhpur District of Uttar Pradesh. [1]

LEATHER

The earliest record of the use of leather as writing material in India dates back to 3 century AD. [2]

280 AD

EDUCATION

FALL OF TAXILA

Taxila was one of the most important seats of learning in ancient India. It was in existence from 700 BC onwards. Taxila was at that time the capital of Gandhara province, situated 20 miles west of Rawalpindi. The teaching was mostly in Vedic literature, philosophy and eighteen silpas. Students used to come from Mithila, Ujjain, Rajagriha and Banaras. There was said to be rich library and the monks were keen in building up its collection. It lost its glory with the end of the Kushan rule by 280 AD. The great grammarian Panini and Kautilya were known to be the students of Taxila. [1]

3-4 Century AD

Painting

RULES

The Vishnu Dharma-Mahapurana which may be dated to this period elaborately discussed the rules for making chitras or paintings. [1]

4 Century AD

WRITING

Writing Material

WOOD

In Stains' excavations in the desert of Taklamakan near Khotan, some 500 small tablets of wood covered with writing were discovered which reach back to the 4 century AD. [1]

LOTUS LEAVES

It is known that lotus leaves were used for writing letters. There was a mention in Kalidasa's Sakuntala when king Dushyanta says, "Here is the folded love letter committed to lotus leaf with her nails" will prove that writing of a temporary nature was committed to lotus-leaves. [2]

COPPER PLATES

The Sohgaour copper plates belonging to the Mauryan period amply corroborates the truth that copper plates were used as writing material during 4 century AD. [3]

BOOKS

AMARAKOSA

Amarsingh a scholar in Vikramaditya's time compiled the ancient Sanskrit dictionary Amarkosa : Namalinganusasana. [4]

INDIAN TRANSLATIONS INTO CHINESE

Two Buddhist preachers by name Kumarajiva and Buddha Bhadra, went to China, learnt Chinese language and translated many Buddhist scriptures into Chinese language. [5]

EDUCATION

NALANDA UNIVERSITY

Nalanda University was one of the biggest residential universities of the by gone days. There were about 3000 residents. The University had in possession of about 200 villages for its maintenance. There were about eight halls and three hundred apartments. The area of the library used to be called Dharma ganja (=Mart of Religion). The library was in three grandest buildings called Ratnasagar, Ratnadadhi and Ratnaranjaka. JAIN CANONS

It is stated in the Jain Chitra Kalpadruma that as a result of a terrible famine in the 5 century AD Jain libraries grow up in order to fulfil the void caused by the death of a large number of Jain monks, who were the custodians of the Jain sacred literature. A Council of Jain monks was called in Vira-Samvat at Vallabhipur in Kathiawar to arrange the writings of the Jain sacred lore and other literature. This event is known as "Pusthakarohana of the Jain Agamas" or reduction of the Jain Canons.

The whole Jain canons were edited by Devardhigani in 454 AD. Thus the Jain scholars gave up the practice of transmitting knowledge orally.

On August 6, he wrote to the Secretary, Government of Madras as follows :

“It may] perhaps [be asked if the library is worth the labour spent on it. I can answer unhesitatingly that it is. It is now a recognised fact that nearly all Sanskrit works of importance exist in different recessions. The Tanjore library is unrivalled in this respect. It contains several good manuscripts of all the most important ones known as yet, including a few that are new. the Tanjore library, however contains additional manuscripts of most of the works which I had discovered elsewhere and this is a matter of great importance... The preparation of this catalogue will therefore protect property of enormous value. Sanskrit manuscripts have long been very dear and the cost of making proper transcripts is now very heavy. As far as I can judge, it would not be possible to form a collection like that at Tanjore at a less cost than £50,000, but many manuscripts are unquestionably unique”.

FIRST ALL INDIA CONFERENCE OF LIBRARIANS, LAHORE

The partition of Bengal intensified the political awakening in India and disturbed the quiescence of the foreign government. Various palliatives were improvised to discharge the developing tension between the people and the Government. Library service was one among them. This move of bureaucracy manifested itself in the so called All India Conference of Librarians.

Lahore was then being enlivened in the library matters by Asha Don Dickenson, an American librarian engaged for few years by the Punjab University. Hence, Lahore became the venue of the Conference. One interesting thing was that most of the delegates were officials outside library service. There were some archivists among them. This was hardly attended by any librarian other than the foreign one supplied by Lahore. [9]

FYZEE COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS A GRADUATED SCHEME FOR LIBRARY DEVELOPMENT IN BOMBAY

A Library Development Committee was appointed by the Bombay Government. The Committee held its first meeting in December under the presidentship of Mr AAA Fyze. In its Report it recommended a graduated scheme for library development in six stages. The first stage deals with the formation and strengthening of a central library and three regional libraries, and the final stage envisages a system which provides books even for the smallest village in the province. The financial exigencies of the war prevented the implementation of this Fyze Committee's recommendations.

SIND GOVERNMENT PLANS FOR TRAVELING LIBRARIES

An elaborate scheme for setting up travelling libraries had been prepared by the Sind Government. They proposed to have at least twenty such centres in each Taluk. Every centre of the literacy campaign will be provided a box containing one hundred books, each book costing four annas only. Such boxes will be sent round to the adult education school where adults, who have recently picked-up reading and writing will be made to take interest in these books. The expense of these portable libraries will be born by the District Library Committees. The books will be suggested or prepared by the Provincial Literacy Committee. [2]

SCHOOL LIBRARIES TO BE OPEN FOR GENERAL PUBLIC

The Government had suggested to the local bodies to extend the usefulness of school libraries under their control by throwing them open to members of the public. The Government expressed that the success in this method of spreading knowledge would be in proportion to the amount of public cooperation and support which school authorities are able to enlist. The Government also expressed its wish to take the services of honorary workers on the days when the library is open to the public. The Government also wished that the school libraries should enrich their collections by public donation and the resident government officials of all departments may take part in propagating for the same. The Director of Public Instruction had been requested to urge on the management of aided schools the importance of throwing open their libraries for the use of the public.

A special departmental conference was held in connection with the mass literacy campaign at Ranchi with the Hon'ble Dr Syed Mohamad, Minister of Education, Development and Employment in the Chair, which discussed the present programme and future policy to be pursued. It had decided to open 4000 Hindustani and 200 Bengali libraries in the Province in areas where intensive work was conducted last year with a view to making literacy permanent. Each library will consist of 200 books and will be supplied with one weekly newspaper. [3]

ASSOCIATIONSINDIAN LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

The partition of India disrupted the social, political and administrative structure of the State. Even the Indian Library Association had suffered a lot as a consequence.

Khan Bahadur K M Asadullah soon after his resignation in 1946, insisted on the office of the Indian Library Association being removed immediately from the Imperial Library on the ground that its room was required urgently by him for the Library. He evaded and finally refused to hand over the files and property of the Association when he was asked.

After September, he had left for Pakistan evidently with the key of the Association's Room in the Imperial Library though he had ceased to be the Secretary as well as Librarian of the Imperial Library.

MASTER MOTILALJI

BUST UNVEILED

Master Motilal had been a teacher on a monthly salary of Rs 15 in 1907 raised to Rs 30 in 1929 and retired on a monthly pension of Rs 20 in 1937. But inspite of this meagre salary, he used to spend nearly Rs 10 per month for purchasing books and serving them to the students and others. He established Sanmati Pusthakalaya in 1920 which has now grown into a library with a collection of 50,000 volumes, having its own building and providing free library service.

The bust of Motilalji was unveiled by Dr S R Ranganathan posthumously. He had prepared the address which was tape recorded. But due to his sad demise the unveiling ceremony was performed by Prof A Neelameghan of DRTC, Bangalore. [65]

PROFESSION

RAJASTHAN, D D GUPTA PAY COMMISSION REPORT

VIEWS ON LIBRARIANSHIP

D D Gupta Pay Commission Report had been submitted to the Rajasthan Government. It had made two broad classifications of departments and the other. It felt that those working in the departments where librarians are required to know the work of referencing and expected to be trained in that art; and the other were the librarian is a mere custodian of books.

For the librarians in the educational institutions it had been admitted on all hands including Grants Commission and of the University of Rajasthan that librarians have to be given the same pay scale as are given to lecturers. The Government of Rajasthan had approved this policy by giving the pay scales of 378-850 to the librarians in the Post Graduate Colleges.

The Departmental libraries may be divided into two categories basing on the responsibility of a librarian. Librarians of the Divisional, District and Tahsil libraries are more or less custodians of books. Therefore, this should be categorised under ministerial posts, eg LDC, UDC depending on the size of the library and allowed pay scales of LDC, UDC as the case may be. [31]

The Government of Tamil Nadu in its GO NO , 1218 dated, 16 July 1974 had issued the following orders :

(a) At present the posts of Secretaries of Local Library Authorities are held by the District Educational Officers who are not able to devote their full time and attention towards library work in addition to their normal activities. It was therefore considered that full time Library Officers will be able to give their best to the growing need of our expanding library system. The Government has therefore decided that 13 posts of District Library Officers at the rate of one District Library Officer for each Local Library Authority may be created with a view to have a better control over the District Library System and to streamline the growing Library Service.

(b) Sanction is accorded to the creation of 13 posts of District Library Officers at the rate of one for each Local Library Authority, on a scale of pay of Rs 500-25-600-35-950 with Dearness Allowance and other allowances admissible under the rules for a period of one year from the date of appointment in the first instance. Necessary amendments to the Tamil Nadu Public Library Rules in this regard will be issued separately.

(c) The posts of District Library Officers sanctioned above will be created in the office of the Director of Public Libraries. The District Library Officers will be under the administrative control of the Director of Public Libraries and they will be posted by him to the various Local Library Authorities. Their pay and allowances will be initially met by Government and will be recouped from the matching grant released to the Local Library Authorities by the Director of Public Libraries. [11]

Foundations

RAJA RAM MOHAN ROY LIBRARY FOUNDATION

ACTIVITIES

The Raja Ram Mohan Roy Foundation decided to take supply of books to different libraries in the States, as its main activity. The proportion of English books to books in regional languages was to be in the ratio of 20% to 80%. The allocation of funds was to be in the order of the following :

|--------------------------------|-----|
| 1 Basic books on India | 30% |
| 2 Reference books | 10% |
| 3 Children books | 10% |
| 4 Imaginative literature | 20% |
| 5 Science and Technology books | 20% |
| 6 Books for neoliterates | 10% |

They mainly supply various official and semi-official publications, which could not otherwise be purchased or got by libraries. About 372 district libraries got such publications at an estimated cost of Rs 10,04,622. The selection of books was made centrally by a Committee headed by Dr N R Ray. 70 Nehru Yuvak Kendras had also been selected for assistance. The Foundation had extended its activities to rural book deposit centres in the State of Karnataka, to the circle libraries in Bihar, and to the taluka libraries in Maharashtra. It had also rendered assistance to mobile library service in Kerala by supplying some bicycles. The Foundation had selected old and well established libraries for the maintenance and preservation of rare and out of print books. It planned to cover Bal Kendras to be established in the country to mark the centenary of Sri Aurobindo. [55]

ANDHRA PRADESH

QUESTION OF PROVINCIALISATION OF THE SERVICES OF THE EMPLOYEES OF THE ZILLA GRANTHALAYA SAMSTHAS

In response to the persistent demands for provincialisation of their services from the side of the employees of the Zilla Granthalaya Samsthas, the Government of Andhra Pradesh had finally decided that the services cannot be provincialised. However, the employees of the Zilla Granthalaya Samsthas in the State thereafter were to derive the same benefits as employees of all other local bodies in the State. The Government had also decided to sanction a sum not exceeding Rs 57 lakhs as an annual grant-in-aid to the Zilla Granthalaya Samsthas to meet the expenditure on establishment.

Further, the Government of Andhra Pradesh had also decided that the rate of library cess shall be raised from 4 paise in a rupee as at present to 6 paise in order to augment the resources available to the Zilla Granthalaya Samsthas for provision of library services.
